INTRODUCTION AND CONTEXT

Côte d'Ivoire is in its ninth year of participation in the Open Government Partnership (OGP), since officially joining on 28 October 2015. Since then, it has set about producing an OGP National Action Plan (NAP) every two years and a self-assessment report at the end of the implementation period, as recommended by the Initiative. The country currently has four NAPs, the first three of which, implemented over the 2016-2018, 2018-2020 and 2020-2022 periods respectively, have already been the subject of self-assessment reports and the Independent Evaluation Mechanism (IEM). The 2022-2024 NAP ended on 30 June 2024. Côte d'Ivoire has made a total of forty-six (46) commitments since 2016, which, in the opinion of the stakeholders involved in the process, are relevant to the fundamental principles of the OGP. The major objectives of these commitments are to improve transparency in the conduct of public affairs, citizen participation, the fight against corruption and access to information. They also address other issues, such as the participatory budget, the citizen's budget, the high cost of living, security, the environment, construction and employment. In this way, the Partnership is helping to strengthen and accelerate the government's efforts in governance, in the same way as similar initiatives such as the Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC), the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI), the African Peer Review Mechanism (APRM) and the African Growth Opportunities Act (AGOA), to which Côte d'Ivoire is also a party. This end-of-implementation self-assessment report on the 2022-2024 National Action Plan reviews implementation over the two-year cycle.

I. NATIONAL ACTION PLAN PROCESS

A. Participation and co-creation throughout the OGP cycle

Since Côte d'Ivoire joined the OGP, all the activities carried out have been the result of close and active collaboration between the public administration, civil society and the private sector.

In fact, under the aegis of the OGP Interministerial Committee (CI-OGP), the steering body of the Process, this strong involvement of the various stakeholders has been observed at all stages of decision-making during various meetings:

- the OGP Technical Committee (OGP TC), the operational body of the OGP IC;
- the various thematic commissions within the OGP Technical Committee, which provided a forum for reflection, exchange and preparation of all activities;
- the OGP Technical Committee with the commitment holders, who discussed and defined the various themes and commitments of NAP 4 and regularly monitored their implementation;
- the OGP Technical Committee with the Ivorian Civil Society Platform for the Open Government Partnership (PSCI-PGO), which have strengthened co-creation at every stage of the process;
- face-to-face public consultations and webinars to raise awareness of the OGP process and popularize it. They also made it possible to gather the concerns of the people which are translated into commitments implemented mainly by institutions and ministerial departments called "commitment holders". The consultations also provided an opportunity to gather comments from the public on the relevance of the NAP 4 commitments in terms of OGP values.

Participation and co-creation throughout the OGP cycle have therefore been a reality in Côte d'Ivoire. However, all stakeholders recognize the need to give greater visibility to the actions carried out by our country within the framework of the OGP.

B. Participation and co-creation in the implementation, monitoring and drafting of reports and the National Action Plan

During the preparation of the National Action Plan 2022-2024 and its implementation, as well as during the drafting of the self-assessment report on the Plan's implementation, the stakeholders (OGP Technical Committee, Commitment Holders, Civil Society, Private Sector) and the public held numerous meetings. These made it possible to raise public awareness of the main principles of the Initiative, to popularize NAP 4 and to gather their contributions and observations on the relevance of the commitments and the state of their effective implementation. In short, the aim was to carry out regular monitoring with participation and involvement. The following events were held:

➤ Statutory and technical activities

- Two (2) committees have been set up within the OGP Technical Committee: one to organise the public consultations (Public Consultations Committee) and the other to draft the Self-Assessment Report and NAP 5 (Deliverables Committee);
- A training and awareness-raising workshop for the Regional Directors of the Ministry of Trade and Industry in the localities visited (Dabakala, Séguéla and Tabou in 2023) and (Abidjan, Bouna and Vavoua in 2024), focused on their role before, during and after the public consultations and on the main principles of the OGP in order to mobilise them further and make them effective relays in their localities of intervention;
- Working sessions with the OGP team and the "Deliverables Committee" produced a draft of the narrative section of the Self-Assessment Report;
- Working sessions with the commitment holders made it possible to consolidate the results of the implementation of their commitments in the model outline of the Report received from the OGP bodies.

➤ Consultation activities

- Face-to-face public consultations in the six (6) locations mentioned above;
- Webinar consultations in November 2023 and May 2024;
- Workshops to raise awareness and popularise the OGP process initiated by the Francophone Open Government Support Project (PAGOF) with the OGP Technical Committee, in five (5) localities (Gagnoa, Yamoussoukro, Ferkessédougou, Katiola and Abengourou), from 3 to 20 March 2024;

- Sessions to share the conclusions of the 2023 and 2024 public consultations with the Public Consultations Committee, the various delegations and the Regional Directors of the locations visited;
- Two (2) summary workshops, on 5 December 2023 and 26 June 2024, to consolidate the results of the public consultation observations.

➤ Activities relating to the Self-Assessment Report

- A workshop to draw up the self-assessment report on the basis of the completed model templates;
- The transmission of the draft Report obtained to the various stakeholders (Public Administration, Civil Society, Private Sector and Commitment Holders) for comments during fifteen (15) working days;
- A workshop to pre-validate the draft Self-Assessment Report in order to incorporate any comments and updates from the various stakeholders;
- Transmission of the pre-validated draft Report to the PMO Focal Point, before it is forwarded to the PMO-IC for a validation meeting;
- Submission of the Report validated by the CI-OGP to the Council of Ministers for adoption.

II. RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE INDEPENDENT EVALUATION MECHANISM (MEI)

The EMI's recommendations made during the two (2) reviews of NAP 4 carried out on 3 July and 19 September 2023 have strengthened the management of the process in general and the implementation of the NAP's commitments. Some of these recommendations have been considered as follows:

➤ Concerning the Directorate-General for Decentralization and Local Development (DGDDL)

- « Ensure that civil society organizations are well represented in the processes of drafting legislation and allocating budgets, at both national and local levels, with particular attention to the inclusion of marginalized groups (...) »

This recommendation has been taken on board by the government, which includes civil society in the process of drafting legislation and allocating budgets. This has been demonstrated through the various OGP Action Plans and the issuing of circular no. 0470/MIS/DGDDL/DG/DTEF/DDD of 24 May 2024 on participatory local planning in the preparation of three-year development programs for local authorities. Similarly, the Ouellé local authority's membership of the Open Local Government is another step towards this inclusion and reinforces the participation of the local population.

- Use local languages as part of awareness-raising initiatives on participatory budgeting, for example as part of caravans and media communications, as well as when disseminating the participatory budgeting guide. 'People Powered' offers a participatory budgeting awareness-raising toolkit to facilitate the implementation of awareness-raising campaigns.

Local languages have always been used in the OGP's outreach activities. For example, the Citizen's Budget is translated into several local languages (Malinke, Bété and Baoulé) during awareness-raising campaigns.

In addition, during public consultations, interviews in local languages are also conducted and broadcast.

We have adopted the 'People Powered' toolkit for raising awareness of participatory budgeting to facilitate its implementation.

➤ Concerning the National Council for the Fight against the High Cost of Living (CNLVC)

- "Revise the CNLVC decree to diversify the membership of civil society within the CNLVC (...)"

This recommendation has already been considered in the decree setting up and operating the CNLVC, which is made up of equal numbers of public sector bodies and civil society organizations (CSOs).

- "Encourage the participation of various civil society platforms (...)"

This recommendation has already been considered by the CNLVC through the representation of seven (7) federations of consumer associations, bringing together a total of more than one hundred civil society organizations. In addition, the CNLVC involves in its work any natural or legal person who is not a statutory member and who can provide expertise or a contribution. This is regularly the case at meetings organized by the CNLVC's technical committee.

- "Raise awareness and train members of CNLVC civil society on the mechanisms for drawing up the table and the fight against the high cost of living (...)"

Awareness-raising campaigns using communication media (press, TV, social networks), face-to-face workshops and activities open to the public are organized for members of civil society and federations of consumer associations. Capacity-building workshops for members of civil society on the price-setting mechanism and the measures adopted by the government to combat the high cost of living are regularly organized, either on the initiative of the CNLVC or at the request of civil society organizations themselves.

- "Ensure that civil society plays an active role in the decision-making process (...)"

At this level, civil society, as a source of proposals, has always been involved in the decision-making process, considering their concerns in terms of the fight against the high cost of living. Civil society is thus an essential partner in prevention efforts. Through their active and systematic participation in meetings initiated by the CNLVC, civil society structures, in particular federations of consumer associations, play a role in ensuring that decisions on recommendations to the government are considered.

➤ Concerning the Country Capacity Building Program (PPRC)

- "Involve OSEP in the implementation of PPRC surveys (...)".

The Observatoire du Service Public (OSEP) is a permanent monitoring body that assesses the efficiency and transparency of the public service by listening to users' complaints and monitoring how they are dealt with. It will be involved in reporting and disseminating the results of the second survey. The Observatory will thus be able to monitor the implementation of the recommendations in conjunction with the ministries concerned, the PPRC and the Project to Improve Governance for the Delivery of Basic Services to Citizens (PAGDS).

The surveys carried out by the PPRC are unique in that they involve civil society actors at all stages of the survey process. These are sectoral surveys, the results of which will be passed on to OSEP so that they can be considered in a more general framework.

- « Examine the possibilities of institutionalizing the practice of participatory surveys to encourage continuation after the project period. (...) »

This recommendation will be the subject of discussions for the second phase of the PAGDS, concerning sectors benefiting from PAGDS interventions such as health, procurement and infrastructure.

In addition, the PPRC has initiated a partnership with the Regional Civil Society Support Centers (CRASCs) with a view to promoting satisfaction surveys and the follow-up of recommendations by local civil society players in Côte d'Ivoire.

- "Increase the participation of civil society throughout the process, both in data analysis, in the feedback and validation of the study, and in the dissemination of data (...)".

Civil society stakeholders are the key partners in carrying out these satisfaction surveys. They are involved in all stages of the process, including: (i) developing survey tools; (ii) sampling; (iii) defining itineraries; (iv) data collection; (v) data processing; (vi) data analysis; (vii) reporting; and (viii) disseminating survey results.

- "Strengthen accountability by creating a system for monitoring the implementation of the enquiry's recommendations, including for civil society, through communications and feedback on changes made by public services as a result of the enquiry's recommendations, using platforms such as the media (...)"

The current system for monitoring the implementation of recommendations is based on the following model:

At central level

A process monitoring committee has been set up. It comprises: the PPRC, representatives of the Ministries involved in the survey (Ministry of Finance and Budget, Technical Departments of the Ministry of National Education and Literacy, Ministry of Technical Education, Vocational Training and Apprenticeship, Ministry of Higher Education), the Partner and the NGO umbrella organizations.

This committee, which meets regularly, monitors the implementation of the survey and serves as a framework for monitoring the implementation of the recommendations.

At local level

A local monitoring framework is set up for each district. It brings together: representatives of the prefectural authorities, representatives of the decentralized departments of the ministries concerned by the survey, the Regional Civil Society Support Centers (CRASCs), certain heads of establishments and the SMCs.

This committee is responsible for supervising the surveys in the field and monitoring the implementation of the recommendations.

In conclusion, the recommendations of the Independent Evaluation Mechanism (IEM) have been shared and exchanged between the various players in the OGP process in Côte d'Ivoire and have guided the general conduct of the Partnership and the development and implementation of the 2022-2024 National Action Plan. They will also help in the co-creation of the NAP 2024-2026 currently in the pipeline.

All the responses to the EMI's recommendations are appended to this document.

III. IMPLEMENTING THE COMMITMENTS OF THE NATIONAL ACTION PLAN

Adopted in December 2022, the National Action Plan 2022-2024, our country's^{4th}, was officially launched on 15 February 2023 by the Minister of Trade and Industry, OGP Focal Point.

As part of its implementation, several actions have been carried out. These include:

- visits to NAP 4 Commitment Holders;
- three workshops as part of the OGP Technical Committee's monitoring of the progress of NAP 4 commitments, on 12 May, 12 December 2023 and 30 May 2024;
- warning or reminder letters and working sessions, such as the one held at the Prime Minister's Office on 12 March 2024, were used to re-invigorate carriers whose performance in implementing commitments was limited.

This work, carried out jointly by the OGP Technical Committee, the public administration, the private sector, the Ivorian Civil Society Platform for the OGP (PSCI-PGO) and civil society that is not a member of the PSCI-PGO, aimed to take stock of the progress made in implementing the commitments. They also aimed to gather the contributions of the populations visited on the relevance of the commitments and their state of implementation to produce the self-assessment report.

At the end of all these activities, the validated Report will be adopted by the Council of Ministers and sent to the OGP bodies in French and English.

THEMATIC 1: BUDGET
Commitment 1: To amend decree no. 82-1092 of 24 November 1982 to institutionalize and then generalize the practice of participatory budgeting in local authorities, and to adopt the subsequent texts. January 2023 - June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of the Interior and Security (MIS) / Directorate General of Decentralization and Local Development (DGDDL)
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - People's ignorance of the content of the local budget; - The non-effectiveness of citizen participation; - The non-redeemability of elected representatives towards their populations in their actions; - The problem of transparency in the management of local affairs; - The exclusion of a section of the population marginalized according to the political affiliation of the local councilor: this can undermine social cohesion when the councilor's supporters are favoured in terms of local authority investments and lead to a lack of understanding of social and government policy; - The mismatch between people's needs and the projects carried out for their well-being; - Inadequate information for local people, especially women, and local authorities on the preparation, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of their local authority's budget, a situation that can encourage corruption in the management of local authority affairs; - The low level of involvement and participation of local people in the management of their local authority's budget. The commitment aims to improve citizen participation, which is stipulated in several existing laws, in particular Articles 32 and 35 of Law 2012-1128 and Article 32 of Law 2001-476.

What is the commitment?	Local authority budgets are most often drawn up by elected representatives and their councilors according to their own policies, without always providing information on the content of the budget, without reporting on budget implementation and without considering the opinions and real needs of citizens. The aim of this commitment is therefore to encourage local authorities to change their approach to the budget by introducing a new dynamic collaboration between representatives and represented. As a result of this commitment, citizen participation will henceforth be compulsory in all the country's local authorities through several mechanisms, including participatory budgeting.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	Direct consultation with citizens from all walks of life, i. e. civil society and representatives of different sectors (including women, young people and other under-represented communities) to express their needs and priorities. These consultations will be included in the Three-Year Program, and their implementation will be recorded in minutes. This is why the commitment will consist of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The creation of a legal framework for the participatory budget to involve local people more and make the actions of local authorities on their behalf more effective, which will strengthen citizen participation already provided for in certain texts such as law 2012-1128 in its articles 32 and 35, law 2001-476 in its article 32; - Raising the awareness of all stakeholders to help them take ownership of the participatory budget; - Setting up a participatory budget tool for local authorities and all other players involved in the participatory budget. The aim of amending decree no. 82-1092 of 24 November 1982 will be to make recommendations to local players aimed at strengthening citizen participation and making certain actions mandatory for the effective improvement of the participatory budget.

	The decree will help to ensure the implementation of the participatory budget process by recommending, for example, that the minutes attached to the attendance list of the various forums be included in the same way as the opinions of the committees, and that the needs of the population be prioritized and specified in the operations sheets in the programming and budgeting of local authority development actions and operations.
Why is this commitment relevant to OGP values?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The commitment is relevant to transparency because citizens are involved in the implementation of priorities (accessibility of information), they have the information they need to monitor and evaluate investments. Managers are and are therefore obliged to manage transparently; - Commitment is relevant to civic participation; - Commitment is relevant to accountability because the priorities of citizens are taken into account in the definition of investments by elected representatives and there is a duty of accountability imposed on the latter; - The commitment is relevant to optimizing citizen participation because the participatory budget is a mechanism or process by which the people decide on the allocation of all or part of the available local public resources or are involved in the decisions relating to these allocations. It is therefore no longer a question of elected representatives deciding for citizens, but rather of the two (02) groups working together.
Additional information	The amendment of the decree is certainly not complete, however, two (2) important texts have been taken to prepare communities for participatory budgeting and its future generalization: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - the signing of decree No. 1345 / MIS / DGDDL / DG / DTEF / SDFB of September 15, 2023, setting out the terms and timetable for programming, budgeting and rendering of the administrative account of local authorities; - The adoption of circular No. 0470 / MIS / DGDDL / DG / DTEF / DDL of May 24, 2024, relating to participatory local planning in the development of three-year development programs for local authorities.

Description of results	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The amendment of Decree 82-1092 of November 24, 1982, setting out the rules for programming and budgeting actions and operations, gave rise to several working sessions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o with a delegation from the Technical Committee, civil society and PAGOF on October 26, 2022; o Internal working session on February 1, 2023; o Working session of the Reflection Committee on the reform of the aforementioned decree on August 25, 2023, September 8, 20 and 29, 2023, October 5 and 6, 2023; The draft text obtained was sent to the Cabinet and validated by the Cabinet's review committee. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Concerning the guide: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o a call for applications for the recruitment of two experts for the development of the guide was organized by PAGOF in November 2022; o on January 18, the two experts were selected: Mr. BACHIR KANOUTE and Mr. TCHEMINDJA KONE; o a working session for the orientation of the guide and the identification of the actors concerned was held on February 22, 2023; o a framing meeting was held on May 19, 2023 in the presence of the Director General; o a data collection mission relating to the practice of participatory budgeting in local authorities was organized by PAGOF, from June 18 to 30, 2023. Concerning other activities, on February 17, 2023, a working session was held with the Head of the MEI-OGP and on November 16, 2023, the visit to the commitment holder, the DGDDL, took place.
Next steps	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - A pre-validation workshop of the guide is planned to make the guide available to the Local Authorities; - The draft amendment of decree no. 82-1092 of November 24, 1982 has been developed, transmitted to the Office of the Minister of Interior and Security; - A training and capacity building workshop for elected officials and agents of the communities on the already adopted texts and those in the process of being signed.

THEMATIC 1 : BUDGET
Commitment 2: Produce and publish the Budget Implementation Report mid-year (90 days after the end of the second quarter) January 2023 - June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of Finance and Budget
What is the public issue that the engagement will address?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Poor information of the citizen on the evolution of the economic environment; - Poor information of the citizen on the mobilization of resources; - Poor information of the citizen on the way in which resources are spent during the first six (6) months of the year. This lack of information does not allow CSOs to carry out a good mid-term control on the respect of the economic and budgetary commitments of the State at the beginning of the year. This situation limits CSOs in terms of the possibility of questioning the authorities on the gaps observed between the objectives and the achievements in the middle of the year.
What is the commitment?	The commitment is to produce and publish the mid-year report on the execution of the budget (90 days after the end of the second quarter), based on a review of the evolution of macroeconomic assumptions and the revision of forecasts.
How will engagement help solve the public problem?	Produce and publish the State Budget Execution Report mid-year (90 days after the end of the second quarter), based on a review of the evolution of macroeconomic assumptions and the revision of budget forecasts.
Why is this commitment relevant to OGP values?	This commitment contributes to improving budget transparency by publishing online the mid-term execution status of the State budget. Indeed, this publication will allow the population to be informed about the level of mobilization of budgetary resources and the execution of expenditures authorized by Parliament. Also, it will offer the possibility and opportunity to better understand the main axes of the budget and to

	form an opinion of what the State does with the taxpayer's money. It will then be able to encourage the participation of citizens in the management of public affairs.
Additional information	This commitment is an ongoing action over time, meaning that the production of the mid-term implementation report will be done every year.

THEMATIC 2: FIGHT AGAINST THE HIGH COST OF LIVING
Commitment 3: Strengthen consumer participation in decision-making to combat the high cost of living January 2023 – June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	National Council for the Fight against the High Cost of Living
What is the public issue that the engagement will address?	Although the Government has put in place a set of texts, systems and measures to combat the high cost of living, the low participation of civil society in decision-making sometimes poses the problem of the lack of information on the Government's efforts to preserve purchasing power, the lack of ownership of measures by the population and the inadequacy of decisions in the context of the high cost of living in relation to the real needs of the population.
What is the commitment?	The aim is to strengthen the involvement of consumer associations in the definition, implementation and evaluation of the annual strategy to combat the high cost of living.
How will engagement help solve the public problem?	This commitment allows on the one hand to strengthen the participation of consumers through legally constituted consumer associations that are representative of the population, in the development of the strategy to combat the high cost of living, and on the other hand, to include consumers in the effective implementation of the measures taken by the Government to protect their purchasing power.
Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	- The commitment is relevant for transparency. Since it improves the quality of the information disclosed, improves access to information and promotes respect for consumer rights, in particular the right to information and the right of appeal;

THEMATIC 3: ANTI-CORRUPTION
Commitment 4: Finalize and popularize the 2024-2028 national strategy to combat corruption and related offenses in Côte d'Ivoire January 2023 – June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	High Authority for Good Governance
What is the public issue that the engagement will address?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Low level of ownership of the government's priority actions in the fight against corruption and related offences; - Low effective involvement of public sector, private sector and civil society actors in the implementation of priority actions; - Poor coordination of priority actions.
What is the commitment?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The national strategy document for the fight against corruption and related offences is a tool for planning, coordinating and monitoring-evaluating government action to prevent and combat corruption in Côte d'Ivoire. - The dissemination of the national strategy document for the fight against corruption and related offences will enable the various stakeholders to take ownership of the multisectoral and integrated action plan with a view to its successful implementation with a view to reducing corruption in Côte d'Ivoire.
How will engagement help solve the public problem?	Through this commitment, Côte d'Ivoire will have a reference tool for planning and coordinating the implementation, monitoring and evaluation of actions to combat corruption and related offences. This commitment will also ensure strong involvement of the population and all socio-professional strata, i.e. civil society and the public and private sectors, in anti-corruption initiatives. This commitment imposes the principles of good governance in the implementation of the national strategy with a view to results-based management, in particular: responsibility, transparency, accountability, citizen participation, etc. This commitment will enable the various stakeholders to take ownership of the multisectoral and integrated action plan of the NACS and to strengthen coordination with a view to successful implementation with a view to reducing corruption in Côte d'Ivoire.

Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	The priority action plan was developed through a participatory and inclusive process involving all structures involved in preventing and combating corruption and related offences in Côte d'Ivoire. Its dissemination at both national and regional level will enable all stakeholders, including the public, to have a good understanding of the actions selected, those responsible for their implementation, and the periods and costs for carrying them out. Axis 5 of the national strategy, "Developing a citizen culture of preventing and combating corruption", is devoted to citizen participation, which will be implemented by civil society organizations through communication and awareness-raising campaigns. In the national strategy document, the person responsible for implementing each action is clearly identified. He or she is required to report regularly on the progress of the actions for which he or she is responsible. In addition, it must draw up a periodic implementation report and send it to HABG, which is responsible for coordination. This approach promotes the principle of accountability of the various national players in the public and private sectors and civil society. The drafting and dissemination of the annual corruption assessment report will enable the High Authority for Good Governance, which coordinates actions to prevent and combat corruption and related offences, to report regularly to the Government and the entire Ivorian population. The participation of civil society in preventing and combating corruption and related offences is provided for in Law 2016-886 of 08 November 2016 establishing the Constitution of the Republic of Côte d'Ivoire and Ordinance 2013-660 of 20 September 2013. A participatory, inclusive and iterative approach has been adopted for the development of the national anti-corruption strategy.

Additional information	The overall cost of implementing the National Anti-Corruption Strategy 2024-2028 amounts to 15.5932 billion FCFA for a period of five (05) years; i.e. an average annual cost of 3.1186 billion FCFA. The State's share represents 65% (10.1356 billion FCFA) of the overall cost. The financing to be sought from development partners (TFPs, private sector, etc.) is therefore estimated at 35%, or 5.4576 billion FCFA. The SNLC considers the objectives of the National Development Plan (NDP) 2021-2025 and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It also includes the conclusions of the mutual evaluation of Côte d'Ivoire on money laundering and the financing of terrorism in June 2023.

The National Anti-Corruption Strategy was adopted on June 12, 2024, by the Council of Ministers. For its implementation, it will be translated into a National Program and sub-program. In accordance with this approach, HABG has planned and carried out technical workshops.

Commitment 5: Produce and make available disaggregated statistics on declarations of wealth subject to tax January 2023 - June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Haute Autorité pour la Bonne Gouvernance
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	Persistence of corruption and similar offences in public management. To effectively combat corruption, Côte d'Ivoire has ratified and transposed the African Union Convention on Preventing and Combating Corruption. This Convention requires States to create the conditions for declaring the assets of their senior officials. Despite the efforts made by the Ivorian State to implement this measure of the said Convention, data relating to the declaration of end of functions of those subject to it are difficult to access, as is the disaggregated form of said declarations, particularly on the HABG website. This commitment aims to reduce or even eliminate the difficulties related to the availability of detailed statistics on asset declarations.
What is the commitment?	Through this commitment, HABG intends to strengthen transparency in the practice of wealth declaration in Côte d'Ivoire by making available up-to-date and disaggregated statistics on declarations. To achieve this, HABG intends to set up an integrated IT platform for managing wealth declaration data.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	The implementation of the integrated IT platform for managing asset declaration data will enable HABG to sustainably and effectively resolve the problem of availability and access to statistics on asset declarations. This application will enable the management of data relating to those subjects to asset declarations and the monitoring of their declarations over the duration of their mandates or functions, to continuously produce reliable statistics. It will also integrate dynamic mapping for better geolocated visibility of information relating to asset declarations.

Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	The implementation of this commitment responds to the need to further improve access to public information for populations and civil society. It thus strengthens transparency in the management of information relating to the declaration of assets. The commitment is relevant for civic participation because civil society can rely on up-to-date and reliable statistics to guide their interventions in the fight against corruption in which it is a stakeholder.

Commitment 6: Provide data on the level of citizen satisfaction with the delivery of public services

January 2023 - June 2024

Description of the commitment

Main implementing body	Country Capacity Building Programme
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	Joining the Open Government Partnership process and creating the Observatoire du Service Public (OSEP) have made it possible to set up information and accountability systems such as the "miliê" portal and the national open data portal (data.gouv.ci), to improve interaction between the State and its citizens. However, these initiatives are proving insufficient to document citizens' feedback on the delivery of public services. The lack of data on user satisfaction with public services can be explained by the absence of regular surveys of citizens. Indeed, the practice of satisfaction surveys by those involved in the delivery of public services is not institutionalized, so that it is not widespread. Similarly, the involvement of civil society organizations in the independent monitoring of public policies is still marginal, mainly because they have insufficient mastery of the methods and tools for collecting objective data on the expectations and opinions of users of public services.
What is the commitment?	The aim of the commitment is to document feedback from users of public services, by conducting an annual citizen satisfaction survey on the delivery of public services in education and financial inclusion. More specifically, this will involve : <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Assessing the conduct of the various operations concerned;- Assess access to and use of the various online platforms concerned;- Record opinions on the management of any complaints/claims;- Assess the overall quality of existing systems;- Déterminer les points d'amélioration des processus, opérations et outils concernés ;- Formulate recommendations based on the analysis of the survey results.

	In terms of education, the operations concerned are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The online assignment and orientation process for pupils admitted to classes 6^{ème} and 2^{nde}. - The production and distribution of textbooks to pupils in CP1 and CP2; - Deployment of the biometric attendance monitoring system for pupils assigned by the State to private secondary schools. In terms of financial inclusion, the survey concerns the use of the TrésorPay/TrésorMoney application to collect revenue and pay for Treasury services. Initially, the electronic platforms (financial services comparator and complaints management platform) were put into service by the Financial Services Quality Observatory (OQSF) concerned. However, due to legal constraints on consumer data protection, these platforms are no longer included in the process.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	In order to find a lasting solution to the problem of the availability of data on the level of citizen satisfaction with the delivery of public services, the PPRC will : (a) Training civil society players to conduct satisfaction surveys; (b) Supporting those trained to conduct an annual citizen satisfaction survey on the delivery of public services. Data will be collected face-to-face by (i) administering satisfaction questionnaires to users/beneficiaries of the services concerned and (ii) conducting interviews with those involved in delivering the services covered by the survey. The active participation of civil society organizations in carrying out the surveys is a key dimension of this activity. In fact, 50 civil society actors from the 14 districts of Côte d'Ivoire were trained to conduct surveys and collect data. They then helped to process and analyse the data, with a view to drafting and disseminating the survey report. Throughout the process of implementing the activity, a firm provided technical assistance in running the training sessions, collecting, processing and analysing the data, and drafting the survey report.

Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?

This commitment responds to the need to improve the documentation of feedback, by conducting annual user satisfaction surveys on the delivery of public services.

This commitment will help to improve citizens' access to information and data at two (2) levels:

- On the one hand, the involvement of civil society organizations in the survey process will give them easier access to information on the provision of the public services concerned;

- Secondly, publication of the survey reports will make it possible to disseminate information on the public services concerned, as well as the expectations, perceptions and opinions of the users of these public services to institutional players, CSOs as a whole and the public.

Similarly, citizen participation will be strengthened at two levels:

- On the one hand, the civil society organizations involved in the process will contribute to monitoring the delivery of the public services concerned;

- On the other hand, citizen-users will be invited to give their opinions and observations on the quality of the said public services, as well as their proposals for improvement.

Two (2) ministries are involved in implementing the activity, as the ministries responsible for delivering the services concerned by the survey:

- The Ministry of National Education and Literacy, for education services, in particular (i) the online assignment and orientation process for pupils admitted to classes 6ème and 2nde; (ii) the production and distribution of school textbooks to pupils in classes CP1 and CP2; and (iii) the deployment of the biometric attendance control system;

- The Ministry of Finance and Budget, through the Directorate General of the Treasury and Public Accounting, for the use of the TresorPay/TresorMoney application.

These ministries and their relevant departments and services are included in the Monitoring Committee responsible for supervising the process. The results of the survey will also be passed on to them.

	In addition, as part of the Project to Improve Governance for the Delivery of Basic Services to Citizens (PAGDS), a project co-financed by the State of Côte d'Ivoire and the World Bank, an objective to improve the satisfaction rate of users of public services by 5% per year over the period 2022 - 2025 has been set: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The 2022 survey made it possible to define a reference satisfaction rate; the results of this first survey made it possible to identify relevant interventions to improve the quality of the services concerned; - For the following surveys (2023, 2024 and 2025), the aim is to assess the achievement of objectives and identify areas for improvement. Conducting satisfaction surveys constitutes an accountability mechanism, in the sense that it makes it possible to collect information and citizens' assessments of the public services delivered. In addition, the co-construction of survey tools and the involvement of civil society actors in the collection and analysis of data make it possible to strengthen the "open" nature of the monitoring and evaluation process for the delivery of the public services concerned. Similarly, repeating the surveys and publishing the results creates a feedback loop through which Civil Society Organizations and citizens will be able to verify the effective implementation of the recommended solutions from one year to the next.
Additional information	The implementation of this commitment is part of the implementation of the Governance Improvement Program for the Delivery of Basic Services (PAGDS) to citizens, a program co-financed by the State of Côte d'Ivoire and the World Bank. Thus, the commitment contributes to strengthening the national system for evaluating public interventions concerning: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - the School for All policy (distribution of school textbooks); - strengthening the governance of the education sector (online assignment, biometric control); - strengthening financial inclusion (use of the TresorPay-TresorMoney platform);

	- developing digital services in public administration (online assignment, biometric control, use of the TresorPay-TresorMoney platform).

THEMATIQUE 4: SECURITY
Commitment 7: Combat clandestine and illicit gold mining by strengthening communication on the regulation of the mining sector January 2023 – June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of Mines, Petroleum and Energy
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	This commitment aims to address the lack of communication on mining regulations denounced during surveys by populations across the Ivorian territory. Indeed, the poor knowledge of the regulations of the Artisanal and Small-Scale Mining (ASM) sector leads to poor decision-making by landowners who allow illegal immigrants to occupy their land and carry out these reprehensible activities with their harmful consequences on the physical and social environment and the national economy.
What is the commitment?	The commitment is to make local populations aware of the dangers and harms of illegal gold mining and encourage them to engage in legal activities provided for by mining regulations. This commitment involves: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - better knowledge of mining regulations by the populations; - better knowledge of the sanctions provided for by law in the event of illegal activity; - better knowledge of the procedures and facilities provided; - legal and healthy mining activities; - eradication of illegal gold mining.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	To solve the problem, the commitment will allow: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - increased awareness for changing mentalities in order to encourage populations to carry out healthy and responsible mining activities with regard to mining regulations; - maintaining and strengthening repression and sanctions (imprisonment and fines) to discourage initiatives that lead to illegal gold mining.

Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	The commitment is relevant to transparency values because it improves the accessibility of information to the public through awareness campaigns against the harms of illegal gold mining.

THEMATIC 4: SECURITY
Commitment 8: Strengthen the implementation of community policing based on Consultative Ethics Committees (CCE) January 2023 - June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of Interior and Security
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	The CCEs are platforms for exchanges between the Police and the population, with a view to restoring the confidence of the populations in their police, which confidence has been broken by serious abuses of human rights in the wake of the military-political crisis that our country has experienced.
What is the commitment?	The objective is to succeed in making community policing a reality through inclusive participation of the populations in the success of the security missions of the National Police.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	To date, in each of the 150 Public Security Police Stations spread across the entire national territory, an Ethics Consultative Committee (CCE) is established. These committees, led by the Police Commissioners, Heads of Department, are made up of all levels of society and are a forum where security problems encountered by the populations in their area are exposed and debated. Within these committees, the Police and the populations work together to co-produce the security of their area of competence. WhatsApp platforms are created and allow the populations to exchange regularly with the Police personnel in their area, the objective being, beyond promoting a frank and concrete rapprochement between the Police and the population, the fight against organized crime, drug and narcotics trafficking, the fight against terrorism ... throughout the national territory.
Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	Through the frank collaboration of the populations and their real involvement in the activities of the CCEs in their different localities.

	The CCEs are therefore a tool that allows the State and the citizens to work together to achieve positive results in terms of security. Some actions of the CCEs are relayed on the platforms of the National Police, such as the Official Facebook page of the General Directorate of the National Police, POLICE SECOURS... The activities of the CCEs will contribute to solving the security problems of the area of competence of the Police Stations, hence the implementation of an adequate security policy, favorable to the tranquility of the populations. Through the CCEs, the populations themselves participate in their own security, provide intelligence to the Police. They are therefore, in all their components, actors of their security, through their frank collaboration.

In August 2024 During the preparations and during the Independence Day of Côte d'Ivoire, the Police and the populations worked hand in hand to clean the cities and a football match in Grand Bassam between the police and former Ivorian footballers. In 2025 until after the election: - Increase awareness-raising operations among the population through the CCEs on social cohesion and the dangers associated with violence during the election period, in order to ensure the proper conduct of the 2025 presidential elections; - Revitalize community policing based on the experience of Japan;

- Train National Police personnel and the population on new approaches to community policing;
- Carry out a vast communication and awareness-raising campaign through the media (TV, radio, social networks) and open days on this new approach;
- Popularize new approaches to community policing through various communication channels (TV, radio, social networks) and open days.

THEMATIC 5: ENVIRONMENT
Commitment 9: Adopt and popularize the Environmental Code February 2023 – June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of the Environment, Sustainable Development and Ecological Transition
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	After the Rio Conference in 1992, Côte d'Ivoire adopted Law No. 96-766 of October 3, 1996, on the Environmental Code. The adoption of this law was reinforced by various special laws dealing with sectoral areas of the environment as well as their implementation of decrees. But despite the significant progress made in building the legal framework for environmental protection, there are still weaknesses and gaps in the national legal system. These relate to new ecological issues, including the fight against climate change, the protection of biological diversity, the promotion of the green economy and the blue economy, the management of electrical and electronic equipment waste, the development of environmental taxation, the regulation of persistent organic products, the limitation of greenhouse gas emissions, the fight against coastal erosion, the involvement of local authorities, the private sector, and environmental protection associations.
What is the commitment?	The overall objective of this commitment is to strengthen environmental protection by considering new ecological issues in the national legal system (fight against climate change, protection of biological diversity, promotion of the green economy and the blue economy, etc.) through widespread adoption and effective application of environmental regulations. By popularizing the environmental code, we aim to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Promote a culture of respect and preservation of the environment among all levels of society; - Ensure sustainable management of natural resources for present and future generations; - Contribute to the fight against climate change by integrating ecological practices in all sectors of society; - Improve the quality of life of citizens by reducing pollution and preserving ecosystems. In conclusion, the commitment to adopt and popularize the environmental code is a strategic approach aimed at fully integrating environmental considerations into public policies, private practices and individual behavior for sustainable and harmonious development.

How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	The revision and adoption of the environmental code is the first legislative step towards solving environmental problems. This law establishes strict standards for environmental protection, regulates polluting industries, and promotes the use of renewable energy sources. However, its effective implementation often depends on mass awareness and mobilization. Popularization through mass awareness plays a crucial role in educating the public on environmental issues and encouraging the adoption of environmentally responsible behaviors. This can motivate individuals to reduce their carbon footprint, adopt sustainable consumption practices, or support more stringent environmental policies. In addition, effective awareness raising can put increased pressure on policymakers to enforce and strengthen existing environmental regulations. Combining the updating of this law with effective awareness raising creates a virtuous circle where environmental policies become more robust and better implemented through increased public support and social demand for positive changes. This can lead to significant progress in solving environmental problems by promoting better protection of natural resources, reduction of greenhouse gas emissions and preservation of biodiversity.
Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	The commitment to "update and popularize the environmental code" is essential for several core values: transparency, civic participation, and public accountability. In terms of transparency, by clarifying laws and regulations, this commitment makes their content accessible and understandable to all. This eliminates ambiguities and facilitates understanding of the obligations and rights of citizens and businesses. Popularization ensures that environmental information is available and easily accessible, allowing citizens to know the measures taken to protect the environment and the reasons behind these decisions. In terms of civic participation, by making environmental regulations more understandable, the public is better informed and therefore more inclined to participate in decision-making and public consultation processes. This

	promotes a participatory democracy where citizens can actively contribute to environmental protection. Civic participation in the development and updating of environmental laws also strengthens the legitimacy of regulations, as they reflect the concerns and values of society. In terms of public accountability, by simplifying and clarifying regulations, it becomes easier to monitor and evaluate the actions of public authorities and companies. This makes it possible to hold accountable those who do not comply with environmental standards. A better understanding of regulations promotes their strict and equitable application, ensuring that all actors respect the same rules and standards. In short, updating and popularizing the environmental code is crucial to promote transparency, encourage civic participation and strengthen public accountability, thus contributing to more efficient and equitable management of the environment.
Additional information	This commitment is fully in line with the National Development Plan 2021 - 2025 in terms of the Strengthening of Governance in matters of the environment and Sustainable Development and the Government's 2022 and 2023 roadmap.

Description of results	In terms of clarity, the updating of the environmental code has made it possible to take into account in the national legal system new ecological issues such as climate change, the protection of biological diversity, the promotion of the green economy and the blue economy, the management of waste electrical and electronic equipment, the development of environmental taxation, etc., making their content accessible and understandable to all. This eliminates ambiguities and facilitates the understanding of the obligations and rights of citizens and businesses. In terms of improving transparency, the environmental code, being easily accessible online and in print with free distribution during popularization

THEMATIC 6: CONSTRUCTION
Commitment 10: Strengthen actions to popularize laws, standards and procedures in the areas of construction, housing and urban planning to secure the built environment January 2023 - June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of Construction, Housing and Urban Planning
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	People live in a living environment that is continually deteriorating. This deterioration is due, among other things, to a galloping demography, non-compliance with urban planning rules, and the incivility of the population. This is observed by a proliferation of spontaneous and precarious neighborhoods in our cities and the appearance of many constructions without building permits. Thus, the commitment made by the MCLU aims to fill a communication gap and will address the problems related to urban disorder such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Lack of knowledge of texts on construction and urban planning; - Incivility of stakeholders in the built environment; - Non-compliance with construction rules and standards; - The existence of many constructions without building permits; - Lack of harmony in the architecture of cities...
What is the commitment?	Strengthen actions to popularize laws, standards and procedures in matters of construction, housing and urban planning with a view to securing the built environment.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	The commitment will allow: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Communicate upstream and downstream on legal texts, standards and procedures; - Have safe buildings, built according to the standards and procedures in order to avoid any risk of collapse; - Raise awareness among the population on the laws, standards and procedures in terms of construction,

	housing and urban planning, using local languages, local radio stations, periodic media coverage; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Involve stakeholders such as NGOs, Co-ownerships, Orders (Architects, Surveyors, Notaries) in raising awareness among the population; - Involve the population and NGOs in denouncing acts of incivility; - Conduct local surveys to better understand the concerns of users (local radio stations, periodic media coverage); - Implement electronic ticketing tools to reduce possible attempts at corruption by agents; - Buy banners on high-traffic sites (Abidjan.net, Connection.net); - Repress offenders with fines and demolitions.
Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	The relevance of this commitment comes from the fact that the populations and the actors of the construction, urban planning and housing sector must apply the procedures, rules and standards in terms of urban planning, construction and housing so that we have a safely built environment and that the living environment of citizens can be improved. To do this, the procedures, rules and reinforced standards must be available and known. Raising awareness among the populations, particularly through our open days, the dissemination of our procedures and access to our information centers are relevant actions for transparency, civic participation and public responsibility. They contribute greatly to reducing corruption and incivility.
Additional information	Other awareness-raising methods: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Updating the Ministry's website; - Publication of the MCLU's "Bâtir" Magazine; - Publication of Newsletters; - Implementation of a project for the Simplification and Digital Transformation of Urban Land since 2022 through the establishment of the Integrated Urban Land Management System (SIGFU). The project execution rate in the 1st phase in Abidjan and Assinie is 97% at the end of June 2024;

Additional information
Speeding up and securing the procedure for issuing the ACD To increase the production of the "Arrêté de Concession Définitive" (ACD) and issue secure, forgery-proof documents, the MCLU has initiated a project to simplify and digitally transform urban land management, with the aim of creating an Integrated Urban Land Management System (SIGFU). Mass titling of urban land parcels is one of the key stages of the SIGFU. This stage involves the mass production of land titles when subdivisions are approved. It avoids the need for users to go back and forth between the MCLU and the Ministry in charge of the Budget (Cadastre and Land Registry) regarding contradictory demarcation. Its application is accompanied by the standardisation and securitisation of existing village certificates (introduction of the certificate of customary use rights). Implementation of this project should reduce the time taken to issue ACDs by 90% and increase annual production capacity to 100,000 ACDs in the District of Abidjan, compared with an average of 15,000 over the past two years. In May 2023, the Council of Ministers adopted a communication on the introduction of the customary "Attestation of Right of Use" (ADU) in the management of urban land in Côte d'Ivoire in place of the "customary attestation". The adoption of this text will lead to a reform of procedures with a view to consolidating the legal force of the Arrêté de Concession Définitive (ACD).

THEMATIC 7: EMPLOYMENT
Commitment 11: Adopt, popularize and make accessible texts on labor law January 2023 - June 2024
Description of the commitment
Main implementing body	Ministry of Employment and Social Protection (MEPS)
What is the public issue that the commitment will address?	Ignorance of labor law texts by the social partners is a source of numerous conflicts in companies. This commitment resolves a social and economic problem, given that we are dealing with labor issues, and that these disputes can lead to workers being made redundant, thereby losing their purchasing power.
What is the commitment?	To raise awareness and facilitate access to the rules of labor law for the social partners and the public, with a view to reducing conflicts within companies. This commitment involves monitoring the adoption of labor law texts, publicizing them and making them accessible to the public, mainly the social partners, i.e. employers' and workers' organizations. Expected results <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Knowledge of labor law texts and compliance with their application; - Peaceful working relations within the company. Overall objective Reduce conflicts and their consequences due to ignorance or misunderstanding of these texts.
How will engagement contribute to solving the public problem?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - By publishing or publicizing texts; - Forwarding them to the social partners; - easy access for all users, physically and/or electronically.
Why is this commitment relevant to the values of the OGP?	This commitment is relevant because it improves the accessibility of information to the public who are entitled to it.

	In addition, the co-creativity that characterizes the adoption of the texts evokes transparency, one of the values of the OGP.
Additional information	This commitment is linked to Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 1 (fight against poverty) and 8 (decent work and economic growth).

conditions of application of the provisions relating to collective redundancies for economic reasons, and Decree no. 2024-145 of 13 March 2024, on the remit, organization and operation of the Technical Advisory Committee on Occupational Health and Safety(CTC-SST);

-Tuesday 03 April 2024: Bipartite meeting (ILO-Social Partners), to analyse the ILO's contributions on seven (7) draft decrees on health and safety at work, resulting from the Gd-Bassam workshop to update the draft decrees implementing the Labour Code;

- 27 out of 28 draft decrees pre-validated at the Bassam workshop;

-Thursday 23 May 2024: Session of the CCT to validate six (06) draft decrees resulting from the Gd-Bassam workshop. Five (05) texts out of six (6) were validated. These texts were sent to the SGG with the minutes of the meeting.

- Tuesday 25 June 2024: A CCT session was scheduled in the form of a validation workshop for the 22 remaining texts, including the 13 referenced in the NAP.

- 19 July 2024: 5 draft decrees were sent to the SGG and adopted by the Council of Ministers on Wednesday 16 October.

Most of the stages in the commitment are continuous actions over time.

Difficulties encountered

Draft decrees initiated by the DGT are submitted to two bodies, the Independent Consultation Commission (CIPC), a bipartite body comprising only employers and workers, and the Labour Consultative Commission (CCT), a tripartite body comprising employers, workers and the State (Ministry responsible for labour), for their opinions.

These texts are then the subject of a pre-validation seminar or workshop, culminating in a report signed by the parties involved, which accompanies the draft decrees to the General Secretariat of the Government, where they are finally adopted by the Council of Ministers.

In addition to this administrative burden, it is also worth noting the various reshuffles that require the visas to be updated.

Since 2022, the government has undergone at least two ministerial reshuffles, which explains the slowness of the process of adopting these texts.

EXCHANGES WITH PEERS AND LEARNING

Côte d'Ivoire has been taking part in the OGP's statutory meetings, namely the World Summits and African regional meetings, since May 2015, i.e. even before it joined the OGP in October 2015.

As a reminder, the main meetings in which Côte d'Ivoire has taken part over the period of implementation of the 2022-2024 National Action Plan are as follows:

➤ At global level

- Participation in the 8th World Summit in Estonia, from 6 to 7 September 2023;
- Study visit to France as part of the project to develop e-learning modules on open government for the "Ecoles Nationales de l'Administration" (ENA) in Côte d'Ivoire, Senegal and Tunisia from 14 to 19 April 2024.

➤ At regional level

Organize and participate in the regional PAGOF seminar in Abidjan in July 2023.

➤ At national level

- Participation in the 4th edition of the CAIDP Meetings, on March 28, 2023;
- Meeting of the Monitoring Committee for the implementation of the Francophone Open Government Support Project 2: PAGOF 2 (AFD, Expertise France, CFI, French Embassy, CT OGP and PSCI-PGO), for monitoring on May 24, 2023;
- Meeting of the OGP Technical Committee with emissaries from the Global Initiative for Fiscal Transparency (GIFT), on May 24, 2023 on a mission to Côte d'Ivoire from May 22 to 24, 2023. The objective of this mission was to take stock of the ecosystem of public participation in budgetary policy in Côte d'Ivoire in order to better guide the content of technical assistance;
- Participation in the HUB IMPORT EXPORT organized by the General Directorate of Foreign Trade in June 2023. This meeting allowed the CT-OGP to raise awareness among foreign trade stakeholders of the values and principles of the Partnership;
- Training seminar for members of the Budget Transparency Monitoring Committee and institutional stakeholders in public finance management on budget transparency and public participation in budgetary policy, from October 17 to 19, 2023;
- Training workshop for trainers on the main principles of Open Government and the implementation of the OGP National Action Plan, from November 20 to 24, 2023. This workshop aimed to build a pool of Ivorian skills on the principles of OGP;
- Working visit of the Congolese Minister responsible for State Reform with the OGP Focal Point Côte d'Ivoire with a view to drawing inspiration from the Ivorian experience in Open Government, on November 24, 2023;
- Visit of OGP international officials (the OGP Global Support Director and the OGP Regional Coordinator for Africa and the Middle East) to Côte d'Ivoire, from May 30 to June 7, 2024. As part of this visit, the delegation carried out several activities, including:
 - a meeting with national OGP stakeholders on Friday, May 31, which provided an opportunity to discuss the new OGP 2023-2028 five-year strategy and OGP challenges;

- a regional workshop with the High Authority for Good Governance (HABG) and the institutions responsible for the fight against corruption in Senegal and Morocco to discuss strengthening collaboration between the three countries in the fight against corruption, from June 3 to 4, 2024;
- a meeting with community leaders (Mayors, Municipal Councilors, representatives of Regional Councils and Municipalities), on the morning of Wednesday, June 5, at the premises of the Union of Cities and Municipalities of Côte d'Ivoire (UVICOCI). This meeting focused on the theme of Local Open Government and the generalization of participatory budgeting in Côte d'Ivoire;
- an audience with the Minister Focal Point OGP represented by his Deputy Director of Cabinet, as he was on a mission, on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 5, 2024. This meeting provided an opportunity to discuss the progress made by Côte d'Ivoire since joining the Initiative and the support needed to advance Open Government reforms;
- an information and awareness workshop for Ivorian Parliamentarians on the theme of Open Parliament, on Thursday, June 6, 2024 in Grand Bassam.

I. Lessons Learned

Côte d'Ivoire is proud of the encouraging results it has recorded as a member country of the OGP Initiative and its role as a leader in West Africa in the field of Open Government. The congratulations addressed to it by the international OGP officials during their visit to Côte d'Ivoire from May 30 to June 7, 2024, are tangible proof of this.

Indeed, whether it is public consultations or the validation of our commitments, and generally all OGP work, the decision-making process is widely shared with representatives of the Public Administration, Civil Society, the Private Sector and the population, which contributes to the optimization of the expected results.

Similarly, meetings with OGP peer countries have been fruitful in certain specific areas for Côte d'Ivoire, in particular, Open Data and the modernization of the Public Administration through the improvement of the quality of public service. Furthermore, Côte d'Ivoire shared its experience of collaboration "Public Administration, Civil Society and Private Sector" on the PAGOF Regional Seminar and during the audience granted to the Minister responsible for State Reform of Congo by the Minister responsible for Industry, Focal Point OGP Côte d'Ivoire.

To achieve its objectives, the CT-OGP has developed new working mechanisms. These include, among others, the use of teleworking to maintain collaboration between stakeholders, the organization of online consultations like those carried out in person, the establishment of several thematic commissions within the OGP Technical Committee, the strengthening of the communication strategy on the actions and activities carried out within the framework of the OGP.

In addition, the CT-OGP has adopted governance documents, in particular Internal Regulations and a Code of Conduct and Ethics. Effective co-creation has helped to cultivate team spirit, conviviality and strengthen trust between stakeholders, namely the Public Administration, the Private Sector and Civil Society. This experience deserves to be popularized in other sectors of activity.

Côte d'Ivoire, after nine (9) years of participation in the OGP, has acquired a certain maturity. This was reflected in its desire and clear willingness to sit on the OGP Steering Committee.

II. Other initiatives

In addition to the commitments made in the various National Action Plans (see achievements in Appendix 2) and under the 2022-2024 Plan, several actions have been undertaken by the Ivorian Government to promote open government, particularly in terms of compliance with the guidelines of the OGP's 2023-2028 five-year strategy, the digitalization of public services and the modernization of the Administration.

Example include:

Compliance with the orientations of the OGP's 2023-2028 five-year strategy

- Adhesion of the first commune of Côte d'Ivoire: Ouellé to the Local Open Government in 2024;
- Adhesion of the National Assembly of Côte d'Ivoire to the Open Parliament on July 3, 2024.

Digitalization of public services and modernization of the Administration

➤ Platforms for public

- the platform <http://www.participationcitoyenne.gouv.ci/> allowing Ivorian citizens to contribute directly to the improvement of public services by submitting proposals in this regard;
- the web portal for information, complaints and suggestions at the service of citizens called "miliê", accessible via www.miliê.ci, to allow them to file a request (complaint, observation and information) in the event of dissatisfaction of the citizen with a public service. The objective of "miliê" is to bring the Public Administration closer to the user-client;
- SIGNALIS: Secure platform for collecting complaints and denunciations of the HABG (www.signalis.habg.ci);
- the tele-taxation web portal (<https://e-impots.gouv.ci/>) allows taxpayers to declare and pay their taxes online;
- the Good Governance and Citizen Control Support Project (PAGOC) was launched on July 15, 2022 in Abidjan. Its objective is to promote participatory governance, accountability and good governance mechanisms for inclusive development.
- the Youth Employment Agency (<https://agenceemploijeunes.ci>).

➤ Sectoral platforms

- the Single Window for Foreign Trade (GUCE) (<https://guce.gouv.ci/?lang=fr>) which brings simplification and standardization of commercial procedures, speed of commercial operations, facilitation of trade as well as dematerialization and reduction of travel for the various players in foreign trade;
- the GUCE MOBILE: an application that will improve the productivity of the GUCE, have a significant impact on the notoriety and visibility of the GUCE CI by allowing users to follow commercial operations from their mobile devices. (Official launch on July 25, 2024);
- the National Program to Support Institutional Reforms and the Modernization of the State (PRIME) whose components consider both modernization and governance. It contributes to the improvement of skills (human capital), institutional and operational capacities of the State;
- online assignments of students admitted to 6th grade, with the possibility for parents of students to choose the school themselves;
- the Single Window for Building Permits ensures the centralization and processing of all requests relating to Building Permits (construction.gouv.ci/gupc/);
- the Integrated Management Center which facilitates the procedures for the edition and issuance of administrative transport documents. It reduces the violation of standards and increases administrative transparency thanks to technological tools. (<https://eservices.cgi.ci>)
- the National Financial Information Processing Unit (CENTIF) (p.tresor.gouv.ci)...

III. Next steps

- the development of the National Action Plan 2024-2026;
- the validation of the revision of the institutional framework of the OGP Côte d'Ivoire, which is one of the recommendations of the international leaders of the OGP during their visit from May 30 to June 7 in Côte d'Ivoire.

CONCLUSION

Since joining the OGP, Côte d'Ivoire has several experiences in implementing and evaluating the OGP process. It has reached a remarkable level of maturity in co-creation, proof of the close collaboration between the Public Administration, Civil Society Organizations and the Private Sector.

We also note the stated will of the Government, which makes the OGP one of their priorities, as evidenced by the actions to strengthen governance included in the sixth (6th) pillar of the National Development Plan (NDP) 2021-2025.

Our country is committed to continuing and expanding the actions undertaken within the framework of the OGP. This will be demonstrated by the membership of the Municipality of Ouellé in the Local Open Government and the membership of the National Assembly of Côte d'Ivoire in the Open Parliament. Côte d'Ivoire, a forerunner of the OGP Initiative in French-speaking West Africa, would like to reaffirm its commitment and its availability to work with all stakeholders and partners to improve the process at the national and international level.
